

Learning from the Leaders -- Women on Corporate Boards of Directors

The California economy is home to a large number of corporations and women-owned businesses. Thus, the state presents talented women with tremendous opportunities to serve on corporate boards of directors and on entrepreneurial boards of directors.

Elizabeth Ghaffari, founder of Champion Boards, has done extensive research and analysis of the “women on boards” subject. In this presentation, “Learning from the Leaders,” she reveals the lessons and insight garnered from examining the paths taken into the boardroom, the competencies and the challenges faced by the outstanding women on California public company boards of directors.

When: March 11, 2008
Where: Toluca Lake, CA
For whom: Commercial Real Estate Women of Los Angeles (CREW-LA)

Contact:

Jennifer Hafner

Davidson & Associates

100 South Chaparral Court, Suite 226

Anaheim Hills, CA 92808-2236

(626) 318-0593

jennifer_hafner@sbcglobal.net

DeborahAnn Marshall,

Administrator

CREW-LA

P.O. Box 12155

La Crescenta, CA 91224

818-497-3968

rsvp@crewla.org

info@acamaa.com